From the Governor's Desk

How's the PMS factor in your club? You know... Pale, Male and Stale? When a person visits your club, maybe thinking about joining, or coming as a speaker or friend, and they cast their eye around the room, what do they see? A mix of younger and older Rotarians, maybe a couple of different colors, and a nice male/female balance? Certainly, if the visitor is younger, they expect to see a mix. When they don't it really stands out in their mind.

All of us who are members of this great organization of Rotary understand that in order to survive we need to attract new and younger members to our ranks. Yet one of the attraction strategies we often overlook is integration with Rotary's youth programs.

Rotary has a built in 'ladder' of development in the organization allowing us to engage young members at all ages. EarlyAct, InterAct and Rotaract can engage young potential members from grade school through college and early adulthood.

Part of our goal to get new young members is to get the word out of what Rotary is, what it does and the impact we have on our community both locally and globally.

I recently spoke with a friend of mine who did not know what Rotary was all about, and so I showed him the Four Way Test, explaining how this guides what we think, do and say. We chatted about it and he said: "Yeah! That is really good!" My friend then went on to donate to Rotary and is looking at clubs in his area to join.

We need to live and talk Rotary and encourage young people to join us in whatever capacity. Then it's much easier to encourage them to become members.

All of us know and interact with younger people - our kids, our grandkids, and people at our workplaces. As people see how they can join with us to help their communities and at the same time enjoy the fellowship of likeminded individuals, they will be much more likely to commit to membership. Think about visiting your local high school and inviting young people, maybe the student government leaders or the international club to join Rotarians in your next community project. How about the various youth levels at your church? Is there a solid after school program in your nearby diverse neighborhood? Consider coordinating through them to clean their park, and then ask them to help clean yours.

For young folks to believe in us, we have to live Rotary not just talk Rotary. Because Rotary is a way of life, not another activity or thing to do. We need to get Rotary into individuals, not just individuals into Rotary.

RI President Shekhar Mehta's primary theme this year is: Be one, Bring One and Serve To Change Lives. At your next club meeting ask the person next to you if they can think of a way to engage with youth and change a life or two. We can do this!

Yours in Rotary Service,
DG Bruce

Salem Rotary Club's April Fool's Day Race

by Al Cormier

Forty-three years ago, the Salem Rotary Club sponsored an April Fool's Day Race to raise money for its Rotary Foreign Student Exchange Program. Each year inviting one of the Salem Washington Academy senior class organizations to help to run the race, making the event a Rotary club and Salem school project. The school and community have benefited from hosting a visiting exchange student and from sending a Salem student to participate in a Rotary student exchange program in another country. Unfortunately, COVID cancelled the exchange program as well as the race these past two years, but this year the return of the Rotary exchange program, a healthier society and good weather made for a successful race. Rotarian Dan Sheldon, who has run the race since 1979, said, "279 spectators and runners enjoyed the 41st event this year, and of them, "90 ran in the 1-mile race, 55 ran in the 5K race, and 34 ran in the 10K race." The Salem Rotary Club, the Salem Washington Academy, and the community that always contributes host families are looking forward to receiving and sending a student for the 2022-2023 school year. The photograph shows a runner crossing the finish line for the 5K race.

In April 1912, the unsinkable Titanic, hit an iceberg and sank to the bottom of the Atlantic Ocean. Today, that event is celebrated as ancient history where one era clashed and changed into another. Roughly one week after the maritime disaster, a meeting took place at the office of George S. DeRouville, a wholesale clothing executive, who introduced and explained a new concept to a group of businessmen in the city of Albany, NY.

This idea, called Rotary had been suggested to George by his cousin who visited a newly established club in Syracuse and liked what he saw. Impressed, the men urged George to write Chicago and get more information and literature on how to start a local club.

A gentleman named Burton Pfeifer was personally appointed by Paul Harris to contact the Albanians. On April 25, 1913, he addressed the potential members, telling them Rotary was a group of business and professional people who gathered to exchange ideas about their professions and provide "service" to the community. Receiving their May 1, 1913, charter from RI President Glen C Mead on May 9, 1913, at The Hotel Ten Eyck, one member told the 50 plus invited guest that, "The chapter of the Rotary Club is not formed to take active part in civic enterprises and interfere with the activities of older organizations. We are simply members of a mutual improvement society and will not participate in public affairs unless asked to do so by the older institutions." By the end of the first year the Albany Club had grown to over 154 members. It was and is the cornerstone of all future Rotary growth in what became District 7190.

"I strongly believe any 'social organization has the right to select its own membership and exclude those it doesn't want.' But a professed service organization such as Rotary violates the highest standards of American principles and ideals when it ordains that women-only because they are women-cannot be a member of an organization ostensibly devoted to community service.” Letter of resignation dates August 17, 1980- Russell Mason

In a vote taken by the Glens Falls Club on the issue of allowing women to join Rotary clubs, roughly 7 years before the Supreme Court of the United States rule in their favor, 76% of the members felt it was okay for each club to determine if women be allowed to join. When asked if women should be allowed to join the Glens Falls club, 68.1 % voted against the proposition.

“Yes, that’s what they told me. I was the first Rotarian to come in here pregnant and deliver a child while I was a Rotarian. So, for me, it was always important to make family part of Rotary.” Jean Lapper (Former club president 2005-2006) Interview December 13, 2007

Rotary Club of Ballston Spa

Nominated District Governor

Charles Grose Jr. 1967-1968

Nominated District Governor

George Reynolds 1972-1973

Nominated District Governor

Rodger Reese 1989-1990

At the same time Dwight Marvin from the Troy club was putting together the finishing touched to the Glens Falls club, his club mate John (Jack) Knickerbocker was conferring with a group of prospective Rotarians at his home in Ballston Spa. Jack lived in Ballston Spa but commuted to Troy where he ran a family foundry. Many of the new recruits were solidly on-board but there were a few murmurs of dissent. Knickerbocker stressed the positive aspects of what Rotary meant for their community business and the good things they could do for the community. Through his efforts, those who were reluctant overcame their hesitancy and 24 men agreed to sign-up and apply for a charter.

They elected Irving W Wiswall the first president and began gathering at the Pleasant Street Community House. Sharing the same “official” charter date of May 1, 1922, with Glens Falls, Ballston Spa became club number 1190, with Glens Falls being designated club 1180. The charters were signed by District Governor J. Lyle Kinmouth, the last Governor of the old district 3. Shortly after the twin’s formation they were both assigned to district 29, which included Eastern New York, Long Island and the island of Bermuda.

Nominated District Governor

Percy Dake 1956-1957

Nominated District Governor

Hal Gerow 2003-2004

Saratoga Springs was the fourth Rotary club charter between the months of April and May 1924. The Saratoga club came into existence through the efforts, once again, of Ballston Spa president Jack Knickerbocker, now known as the “Daddy of Rotary in the Capital District area.”

Initial club president Dr. Robert Rockwell commented, “So, it was not surprising that the Ballston Spa Club was our sponsor. From the very onset, our club was influenced by our friend Jack Knickerbocker. He enunciated the principle, ‘No meeting must ever rely for enthusiasm on liquor and no unworthy jest should be told by any speaker at a Rotary meeting.’ He advised that the meetings should start on time.”

The Saratoga Rotarians we anxious of spreading the word by sponsoring another club. The possibility of forming a club in Corinth was suggested at a meeting held in May 1925. However, another 30 years passed before this dream became a reality.

Rotary Club of Hudson Falls

Charter date May 6, 1925. Sponsored by Rotary Club of Glens Falls, NY. 97 years of service.

Nominated District Governor

E. Victor Wiley 1947-1948

On February 23, 1925, 20 years after the initial start of Rotary in Chicago, a meeting was called by Glens Falls Rotarians Thomas Remsen, J. Thacher Sears and Russell Carson, traveled to Hudson Falls to interview prospective members for a new club in that village. By April 22, they had enough recruits for the issuance on May 6, 1925. District Governor Alexander Caven traveled from Poughkeepsie on May 22, to present the 23 new Rotarians at a dinner held in the St. Mary's Great Hall. Over 100 people from Granville, Mechanicville, Troy, Poughkeepsie and Glens Falls witnessed the event.

In January 1949, Hudson Falls District Governor E. Victor (Vic) Wiley wrote in his newsletter, "It is important that we review our history and growth once in a while, just to refresh our memories and renew the faith in this movement we know as Rotary International. None of us can ever know too much about Rotary, and most of us know too little."

"The Hudson Falls Rotary Club Bloodmobile team reported 114 donors collected 106 pints of blood, much better than they had expected." Historians Report 1973-1974

The Rotary Club of Glove Cities

Applied for merger in December 1992 combining the Rotary Club of Johnstown (June 12, 1929) and Gloversville (May 15, 1946). Per tradition, the oldest chartered club date becomes the new charter date for the merged clubs.

They are the reason

The Rotary Club of Wilton

Charter date May 15, 2002. Sponsored by Saratoga Springs, NY Rotary Club.

In 2001, Rotary International eliminated territorial boundaries for clubs. This was an effort to open areas around the country that had traditionally been assigned to individual clubs. Places like New York City had for years denied any other new Clubs within the City Limits. This change did have an effect in the Saratoga area where a group of interested members wanted to establish a breakfast club within the city limits of Saratoga. This opened some serious discussions between District 7190 and R.I. In an effort to deflect the proposed breakfast club, Saratoga began an effort to establish a similar breakfast club just outside the city limits of Saratoga in Wilton.

After being overruled by R.I., Governor Quatrini presented the charter to the new breakfast club of Racing City in January 2002. By May 2002, Governor Quatrini presented a second charter to Wilton Club President Robert Rice accepting.

In attendance at the charter dinner held at the Gideon Putnam Hotel on May 31st, was R.I. Director Don Osburn, along with several other special dignitaries. Although the background surrounding the formation of Racing City and Wilton were unusual, it did point out that by eliminating territorial boundaries and making some basic alterations to the rules, over 60 additional Rotarians were found in a community that believed no more growth was possible.

All clubs are encouraged to protect and save the mementoes of their past. If you have any questions regarding how to accomplish this; or have specific inquiries regarding Rotary history, please contact Fred Carvin at Qbyfred@verizon.net.

Think About It

What is DEI?

by Pam Baxter

What is DEI? This is a question in a lot of peoples' minds when they hear the term DEI. Let's first start by expanding the acronym, it stands for Diversity, Equity and Inclusion. Now let's go a step further and explain a little bit about what each of those words means. According to Merriam Webster dictionary:

Diversity is the condition of having or being composed of different elements or qualities;

Inclusion the action or state of including or of being included within a group or structure;

Equity is the quality of being fair and impartial or the value of the shares issued by a company.

Malcolm Forbes once said Diversity is the art of thinking independently together. When we speak of DEI we refer to diversity as the presence of differences. Differences that may include race, gender, religion, sexual orientation, ethnicity, nationality, socioeconomic status, language, religious commitment, political perspective, and accessibility as in vision, hearing and speech, cognitive, mobility, age. This is by no means an exhaustive list but it should at least give you an idea of where we are going. Is it Fair to All concerned.

Equity is our ACTION element. It is promoting justice, impartiality and fairness within the procedures processes and distribution of resources by institutions or systems. Equity is the creation of access for everyone, no matter their diversity. Will it be Beneficial to All concerned.

Inclusion is an outcome to ensure those that are diverse actually feel and or are welcomed. Inclusion outcomes are met when you, your institution and your program are truly inviting to all to the degree to which diverse individuals are able to participate fully in the decision-making process and development opportunities to participation in activities and event within an organization or group. Will it Build Goodwill and Better Friendships.

Now, if you have been paying attention you know the answer to this next question. So how/where does DEI fit in Rotary? The answer: The Four Way Test, yes, it is really that simple. Since 1943, the Four Way Test has been a foundation for Rotarians around the world, in their businesses and personal lives. It is a guiding mantra and a gauge given each Rotarian to apply in all that they do. So you see DEI is not new to Rotary, but as with all things we must continue to learn and practice and adjust our skills in an everchanging world. If you have questions about DEI or would like a member of the District's DEI Committee to come and talk to your club, please contact District DEI Committee Chair Pam Baxter pamb7190@gmail.com

~ Diversity is a fact, but inclusion is a choice we make every day. As leaders, we have to put out the message that we embrace and not just tolerate diversity. ~ Nelli Borrero

Louise Beckerle Rourke is a polio survivor from six months of age. With her right leg paralyzed, she is a lifetime swimmer of Lake George. In 2018 Louise Rourke was joined by Bridget Simpson in a two-person relay to swim the length of Lake George. This epic 32-mile "Swim To End Polio" raised over $120,000 for polio eradication. The dedication and determination of people like Louise motivates Rotarians and others today to not give up until global eradication of polio is complete.
